

Product Information

Brett GeoCeramica is a hybrid ceramic and concrete paving flag. The Bluestone range has the contemporary look of traditional Granite but with the added benefits of modern porcelain paving and the installation ease of concrete flags.

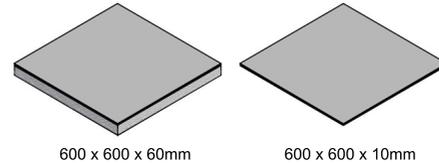

Available in a single plan size, two thicknesses and two colours as standard, Bluestone has a wide variety of paving applications including domestic driveways. The 60mm thick hybrid product is designed for external use and has spacer nibs built into its concrete layer to assist with protecting the ceramic edges during transit. The matching 10mm thick 'ceramic only' accessory is suitable for external detailing and internal flooring.

Brett GeoCeramica Bluestone comes as standard in single size packs.

Externally, Brett GeoCeramica pavements should be designed and constructed in accordance with the basic principles of BS 7533, however a further guidance document that includes further help is available on request.
